It is such an honor to be named Herdsman of the Year for the fifth consecutive year. We love our Hollands and are so fortunate that our hard work and perseverance continues to improve our herd. Those of you who have been raising this engaging breed know how difficult that can be. We have had bad hay, bad feed, bad weather, accidents, does not kindling, outcrosses bombing, setting in an undesirable trait, does over cleaning to the point of removing body parts on newborns, predators, the list goes on and on.

We lost one of our most promising young herd bucks this summer, which was a discouraging and painful blow. It often seems to be two steps forward and one huge sliding back.

Along with our wins is the joy we take in the many friends we have made in this 26-year journey. We thank all of you for your friendship and support.
